SISTERHOOD ★ SERVICE ★ EMPOWERMENT

A Decade of SISTERHOOD, SERVICE, and PURPOSE

A Founder's Reflection on 10 Years of siSTARS Inc.

By Kay Malcolm, Founder

Ten years ago, I had a vision.

It was a vision born from observing women who were strong, talented, intelligent, hardworking, and capable, yet did not always have a space where they could come together, encourage one another, share their dreams, and simply be themselves without judgment.

I asked myself, What could happen if women came together not to compete, but to celebrate one another? What if we created a space where one woman's success could inspire another woman to pursue her own? What if our sisterhood could extend beyond ourselves and become a source of strength for our communities?

Those questions became the beginning of Circle of siSTARS Brunch Inc. and siSTARS Inc.

Today, as we celebrate our 10th anniversary, I look back with a heart full of gratitude. What started as an idea has grown into a beautiful journey of sisterhood, empowerment, service, and love.

I am Kay Malcolm—a mother of three, a wife, a daughter to many, a sister to most, and, most importantly, a woman who believes deeply in the power of community.

In 2016, a space was created;
Circle of siSTARS Brunch Inc. was born.

The concept was simple: women would gather on the first Saturday of each month in a welcoming, judgment-free environment where we could inspire and motivate one another while sharing our personal beliefs, talents, businesses, dreams, and aspirations.

But I quickly learned that what we were creating was much more than a monthly brunch.
We were creating a siSTARHOOD.

Over the years, our brunch table has welcomed women from all walks of life. We have women with businesses in travel, clothing, accessories, gift baskets, candles, party planning, and so much more. We have encouraged women to bring their businesses to the table, share what they do, make connections, and find opportunities to grow.

We have also learned to celebrate something that is often overlooked—the milestones of life.

- Birthdays.
- Graduations.
- Retirements.
- Business accomplishments.
- Personal achievements.

Every milestone is worth celebrating because every milestone represents a journey. Behind every accomplishment is a story of perseverance, sacrifice, faith, determination, and hard work.

But I knew our work could not stop with encouraging one another. If we were truly going to call ourselves siSTARS, then our light had to extend beyond our own circle.

That is why siSTARS Inc. became the giving-back side of our organization. Our mission expanded from empowering women to helping those in our communities who needed support.

> "When one of us rises, we all have an opportunity to rise with her."

My best chapters are still ahead...

A Decade of SISTERHOOD, SERVICE, and PURPOSE

A Founder's Reflection on 10 Years of siSTARS Inc.

By Kay Malcolm, Founder

Over these ten years, our siSTARS have participated in feeding missions for those who are less fortunate, clothing and coat drives, hygiene product drives for shelters, Christmas gift drives, and summer backpack and school-supply drives for children preparing to return to school, and most recently free back to school haircuts and styling for the kids at the shelter.

We have also raised funds to support causes close to our hearts, including cancer and lupus foundation.

One of the areas that means the most to me personally is our scholarship program. Our scholarships are geared toward underserved populations, including single parents, individuals from low-income households, and students living in the New York shelter system.

Education has the power to change the direction of a person's life, and I believe that financial circumstances should not be the reason someone has to give up on their dreams. If we can help even one student move closer to their educational goals, then our work has meaning.

But if you ask me about my favorite part of giving back, I will always tell you about Christmas. Every Christmas, our organization provides age-appropriate gifts to children in shelters. There is something incredibly special about seeing the expression on a child's face when they receive a gift—especially when that gift is something they specifically wished for. Those smiles are priceless.

Sometimes, it is not the biggest or most expensive gift that makes the greatest impact. Sometimes, it is something as simple as a winter jacket. To a child in a shelter, that jacket can mean warmth. It can mean comfort. It can mean someone cared enough to think about them. Those moments remind me that giving is not about how much we have. It is about what we are willing to give from what we do have.

Our journey has not always been easy. There have been challenges, opposition, disappointments, and moments when continuing forward required determination. Then came the COVID-19 pandemic, a time that challenged individuals, families, businesses, and organizations around the world. But even through those difficult circumstances, our mission endured.

We persevered. We adapted. We continued to look for ways to serve our communities. That experience taught me that when you truly believe in what you are doing, obstacles may slow you down, but they do not have to stop you.

Ten years later, I am humbled by how far we have come. I am grateful for every woman who has ever sat at our brunch table. I am grateful for every volunteer who donated their time. I am grateful for every person who donated clothing, food, school supplies, gifts, money, or resources. I am grateful for every supporter who believed in our mission. And I am especially greatful for every child, family, student, and community membre who allowed us to be a small part of their journey. You have all contributed to the story of siSTARS Inc.

Ten years later, I am humbled by how far we have come. I am grateful for every woman who has ever sat at our brunch table. I am grateful for every volunteer who donated clothing, food, school supplies, gifts, money, or resources. I am grateful for every supporter who believed in our mission. And I am especially grateful for every child, family, student, and community member who allowed us to be a small part of their journey. You have all contributed to the story of siSTARS Inc.

As for me, my journey has entered another chapter. Retirement has allowed me breathing room to think clearer about the future. It is an opportunity to open the next chapter and ask, What else can I do? Who else can I help? What other dreams can I pursue?

And that is the message I want to leave with every woman who has been touched by siSTARS over these past ten years. Do not be afraid to dream again. The world is truly an open book, filled with opportunities beyond your wildest dreams. Your focus matters. Your drive matters. Your determination matters. And your ability to stay the course matters.

There will be people who doubt you. There will be obstacles you did not expect. There will be moments when you question whether you should continue. Continue anyway. Believe in yourself. Surround yourself with people who encourage you. Celebrate the accomplishments of others. Reach back when you move forward. And never forget the power you possess to make a difference in someone else's life.

That is what siSTARS has taught me. We do not have to wait until we have everything figured out before we begin helping others. We can start with what we have. We can start where we are. We can start with one woman, one child, one family, one student, one act of kindness.

Ten years ago, I started with a vision. Today, that vision has become a decade of memories, relationships, service, and impact. And while I am proud of what we have accomplished, I believe our greatest days are still ahead of us. Our story is not finished. There are more women to inspire. More businesses to support. More dreams to encourage. More children to reach. More students to help. More communities to serve. And more lives to touch.

To my beautiful siSTARS, I say thank you. Thank you for trusting the vision. Thank you for showing up. Thank you for believing in sisterhood. Thank you for giving your time, your talents, your resources, and your hearts. Thank you for reminding me that when women come together with love and purpose, there is no limit to what we can accomplish.

As we celebrate ten years, I celebrate not just an organization, but a family. A family built around encouragement. A family built around service. A family built around love. A family built around the belief that when one of us rises, we all have an opportunity to rise with her.

My prayer and hope for the next ten years is that siSTARS will continue to be a beacon of hope, sisterhood, empowerment, and service. May we continue to inspire women to discover their strength. May we continue to motivate women to pursue their dreams. May we continue to celebrate life's milestones. May we continue to support women in business. May we continue to reach underserved communities. May we continue to give children reasons to smile. And may we always remember why we started.

Ten years later, I am still standing.
Still believing.
Still serving.
Still dreaming.
Still giving.
And still grateful.

> "The world is truly an open book with opportunities beyond your wildest dreams. Your focus, your drive, and your ability to stay the course are all you need to be anything you want to be."

With love and gratitude,

Kay Malcolm

- ★ Each of the 10 years awarded up to five young adults scholarships towards their higher education
- ★ Extended humanitarian assistance to support Jamaica, West Indies during its recent devastation of Hurricane Melissa.
- ★ Organized a street ministry and fed the homeless hot meals that are displaced living on the streets of NYC

As we celebrate 10 incredible years of CSB/siSTARS, I'm reflecting on the beautiful journey that began in September 2016 and the powerful impact this organization continues to make in the lives of women and families in our community.

For a decade, CSB/siSTARS has been a safe, uplifting space where women from all walks of life come together through monthly brunches, fundraisers, and special events to share, encourage, inspire, and support one another. The strength, resilience, and determination of the women in this sisterhood continue to motivate me deeply.

Although my personal journey with CSB/siSTARS began later, I am truly honored to stand with the phenomenal women who built this foundation and those who continue to carry its mission forward. I celebrate the legacy that was created before me, the sisterhood I've been welcomed into, and the opportunity to contribute to the next chapter of growth and empowerment.

Together, we have cultivated an environment where women feel supported, valued, and encouraged to embrace their worth and walk confidently in their purpose as the True Queens they are.

I am especially proud of how CSB/siSTARS has expanded its reach over the years, allowing us to make an even greater impact in our community. Our commitment to providing scholarships for single-parent households and first-time college students reflects our heart for service and our belief in creating opportunities that help families move forward.

As we celebrate this 10-year milestone, let us honor our past, appreciate our present, and look forward to an even brighter future. May we continue uplifting one another, standing together, and using our collective strength to accomplish even greater things.

Congratulations to CSB/siSTARS on 10 years of sisterhood, empowerment, service, and giving back.

Thank you for allowing me to be part of this beautiful sisterhood and for trusting me with the privilege to serve alongside such extraordinary women.

A Stronger Community Brighter Tomorrows

Celena Ratcliff is a dynamic leader, entrepreneur, and community advocate whose work reflects an unwavering commitment to service, empowerment, and excellence. Her journey is not only defined by professional achievement but by profound resilience, personal transformation, and a deep-rooted passion for uplifting others.

A 16-year cancer survivor, Celena embodies strength, perseverance, and faith—qualities that continue to shape both her personal life and professional mission. Her passion for giving, serving, and loving others is deeply rooted in her early life as a foster child in the system. Having grown up without consistent love and stability, she made a conscious decision to become the very source of compassion and support she once needed.

Celena is also the proud mother of a son, whom she had at a young age. Tragically, his father passed away when he was just eight, leaving Celena to raise him alone. Today, her son is a blessing in her life, and he has gifted her with three beautiful grandchildren—further brightening her world and adding layers of joy to her journey.

In 1999, Celena began searching for her biological family, ultimately finding them—but also learning that her mother had passed away at the age of 40, leaving her without the opportunity to ever meet her. Years later, during the COVID-19 pandemic, she located her father's side of the family, only to discover that he too had passed before they could meet. While these moments carried deep emotional weight, they also brought her a sense of closure, healing, and answers that helped shape her identity and strength.

Despite these early challenges, Celena was blessed to be adopted by a loving family who provided her with a strong foundation, including three brothers, three sisters, and a large extended family. She credits this chapter of her life as a divine turning point, and she remains deeply grateful to God for opening that door, surrounding her with love, and belonging.

With over three decades of success as a hairstylist, salon owner, and businesswoman, Celena has built a legacy grounded in creativity, discipline, and entrepreneurial excellence. She earned her business degree and license from American Business Institute before advancing her professional training at Hair Design Institute, equipping her with expertise in business development, marketing strategy, and high-level sales.

A former platform artist with Bronner Brothers, Celena graced major stages within one of the most influential beauty organizations in the country. She also has over 20 years of experience in entertainment promotion, where she became known for her ability to unite people, create impactful experiences, and foster meaningful community connections.

For the past 10 years, Celena has served on the front lines of human services as a supervisor in a shelter supporting over 400 men experiencing homelessness. In her leadership role, she overeses a team of 10 staff members while ensuring the delivery of critical services to individuals facing complex challenges, including street homelessness, substance use, and mental health conditions. Through her hands-on leadership, she not only manages operations but actively mentors' staff and advocates for clients—creating an environment rooted in structure, dignity, and care. Driven by a genuine love for people and community, Celena goes beyond her role to uplift, encourage, and empower those she serves. She helps individuals navigate difficult circumstances, rebuild confidence, and take meaningful steps toward independence and stability. Her work is not just a profession—it is a purpose.

Her outstanding service has been recognized with the President's Volunteer Service Award (2023). She is also the recipient of a Leadership Award for "Bringing People Together" (2019) and the SFS Honors Promoter's Leadership Award (2016), further highlighting her long-standing impact and influence.

As the owner of New York Donz and Divaz Travel Agency, Celena continues to expand her reach—creating opportunities for connection, cultural experiences, and global engagement.

Celena Ratcliff's journey is defined by resilience, leadership, and heart. She has built businesses, mentored teams, and transformed lives—leaving a lasting impact in every space she enters. "Her heart for service, her faith in action, and her unwavering commitment to others make her a shining example of what it means to be a True Queen."

Shalise Bailey

During this journey, my goal is to have a positive impact on the community through charity work and mentorship, and empowerment. As a proud member of the 'CSB SISTARS' we have created a platform of support for women to collaborate with each other, share resources, and serve the community.

My major in college was human services. I have served city of New York Department of Correction for over 20 years; I have developed communication skills in civil service. I have done charity work with various non-profit agencies for youth and senior citizens.

In my retirement from civil service, Entrepreneurship has always been a goal. I recently entered the real estate industry and became a member of the Long Island Board of Realtors. I enjoy servicing and meeting the needs of my clients.

I have become involved with fitness groups. Together, We promote fitness and health in the community.

I have received guidance and direction from some of the greatest mentors.

I strive to be a blessing to someone and inspire.

A True Queen

"Her heart for service, her faith in action, and her unwavering commitment to others make her a shining example of what it means to be a True Queen."

Helen Y. Cushnie a retired NYC Department of Correction Officer for 22 years, has been a proud member of siSTARS since February 2017.

After being invited to attend their monthly members luncheon by the founder Kay Washington it was their Valentine's Day Themed Luncheon. How cool was that, it was the month of Love. It was at that very luncheon when I learned of what siSTARS was all about. They had a vision and a purpose which sparked my interest because we both shared the same interest of giving back to the community. There were many woman present. Some I knew from my job and others I met. The love and the warmth that was in that room made me feel welcomed. After enjoying good food and good fellowship, I knew I had to become a member of this fine group of woman. At the end of the luncheon, Kay Washington had announced if anyone was interested in becoming a member. I graciously accepted the invitation and it has been 9 years.

I have been involved in community service since the age of 13 where I became a huge part of the largest wheelchair charity organization in the country. The Wheelchair Charities of New York City. It was there when I first experienced how to raise money. I was destined to become a servant just as my Lord Jesus Christ is. I have a Servant's Heart and I try to be humble. Jesus instructs His followers to help the sick and the poor.

This is the same mind set the siSTARS Organization has built for the last 10 Years. Learning what it is like to help others, by fundraising, volunteering in food pantries, clothing distribution, shelter visitation, and meeting people who share the same interests is what lead me to siSTARS. I love the vision Kay Washington has had since the beginning and that is the catalyst today for this organization. She understood her assignment.

siSTARS raises money to help distribute food, clothing, Christmas toys, socks, raffles and college scholarships to single mothers who are currently living in shelters. This organization doesn't hesitate to help where there is a need.

Each year this organization memorializes "FALLEN ANGLES". My beautiful daughter Kyra Michelle Alston who I loss on November 3rd 2012 has had scholarships dedicated in her name. This May, I loss another daughter Nicole Simone Alston. A scholarship will also be given in her name. I want to say on behalf of my family and myself, how deeply honored we are.

Each year there is are proud recipients to receive these scholarships.

In conclusion, being a proud member has made me a humble, inspiring, encouraging, supportive person, whose aim is to continue and model after Jesus Christ who is the head of my life. This organization acknowledges Jesus Christ at our meetings, always involving prayer which definitely gives us direction as to what paths we should go in our planning.

I thank God and this organization for being chosen and recognized to receive The Founders Award of Excellence.

As we continue this path of Sisterhood, fellowship, friendship, and community service, let us continue to seek guidance from our Lord and Savior as He orders our steps. Here's To Making Lives Purposeful And Rewarding. Happy 10th Anniversary siSTARS. Let's Continue To Strive For The Better Good of This Organization.

Walinda Gibson's Biography

Walinda Gibson is a proud African American woman who was born in Queens, New York, and raised in Harlem, New York. She is a devoted wife to Mr. Tawan Gibson and a loving mother to her two children, Weldon and Whitney St-Arre, who are her greatest source of pride and inspiration.

As a dedicated special education educator, Walinda is passionate about nurturing the academic, social, and emotional development of children with special needs. She is committed to creating a supportive, inclusive learning environment where every child is empowered to reach their fullest potential.

Walinda is also a cancer survivor. Her journey through cancer transformed her into a stronger, more compassionate, and resilient woman. Facing one of life's greatest challenges deepened her faith, strengthened her perseverance, and reminded her to trust God's plan while remaining grateful for each new day.

She recognizes that she did not walk this journey alone. The love, prayers, and unwavering encouragement of her family and friends carried her through some of her most difficult moments. Above all, Walinda gives all honor and glory to her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. She believes that every blessing, accomplishment, and source of strength in her life comes from God. Through His grace, she continues to walk in faith, serve others with compassion, and inspire others with her testimony of hope, resilience, and unwavering belief.

Walinda's journey with siSTARS INC began as what she thought would simply be a Saturday social gathering to help her cope with grief. She soon discovered it was so much more. siSTARS INC became a true sisterhood—a community of inspiring, intelligent, hardworking women who uplift, encourage, and support one another while making a positive impact in the community.

Today, Walinda is proud and honored to be both a member and a founder of such a prestigious organization. She is deeply humbled and truly blessed to receive this incredible award. She accepts this recognition with gratitude, knowing it represents not only her personal journey but also the strength of the remarkable women of siSTARS INC and the faith that has guided her every step of the way. She hopes her story serves as a reminder that with God's grace, the support of a loving community, and unwavering determination, it is possible to overcome adversity and use life's challenges to inspire and uplift others.
